Area Farm Ripped Off

ROCKDALE

Between $3,000 and $4,000 in appliances, plus a 1969 model pickup, were taken from a farm owned by an Alice man last week, according to Rockdale Constable Spud Caywood who appealed to area residents to record the serial numbers of their major appliances. Caywood said the 100-acre ranch, owned by Charles E. Wrinkle of Alice, is located south of the Pleasant Hill community near the Burleson County line.

Sheriff Weeds Pot Garden

GEORGETOWN

Harvest of a marijuana crop with an estimated street value of up to $15,000 was completed Monday on the banks of the North San Gabriel River, following the arrest of a Liberty Hill man who was charged with both felony and misdemeanor possession of the outlawed plant. The sheriff estimated there were more than 2,000 marijuana plants in three separate gardens scattered throughout a thickly-wooded hollow near the river.

County OKs Warrant Issue

BELTON

Bell County will issue $300,000 in warrants, as approved by a resolution passed by the Commissioners Court, to tide the county over its current financial crisis. The county judge said the county will need about $700,000 to operate current programs the remainder of this fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30. Anticipated income will be about $500,000.

River Yields Live Shell

GATESVILLE

Residents of the Moccasin Bend area northwest of Gatesville might have thought they were hearing aftershocks from a violent thunderstorm that moved through Monday. The noise, however, was a live mortar shell being detonated by a Fort Hood disposal team. The shell was found lying in the Leon River and no one knows how the shell wound up in the river.

Couple Missing In Flood

CALDWELL

Two Caldwell residents vacationing in the Colorado camping area hit by a flash flood have not been heard from since that time. The couple was last heard from at 8:20 p.m. Saturday, just 10 minutes before the flash flood struck the Loveland, Colo. area. They had called their son in Austin to tell him they planned to leave the site that evening.

Fiddlers To Draw 10,000

BURNET

A crowd of 10,000 persons is expected in Burnet next week for the 4th annual Texas Old Time Fiddlers Contest. Over 50 entrants, including last year's winners, will be on hand to compete for the state championship and more than $2,000 in prize money.

Flu Vaccination Set

WACO

The Waco Health Department has announced that the swine flu vaccination program will probably start in the area the third week in September. The Waco Convention Center will be used for the project which plans at least 125,000 injections in five days.

Area Schools Set Openings

Officials Announce Registration Dates

With area school bells scheduled to ring soon, schedules for registration and for classes to begin have been released by school officials.

CAMERON

Registration for grades 3, 4, and 5 will be at the Ada Henderson principal's office August 17 and 18 with only new students needing to register.

Kindergarten and first grade registration will be August 19 and 20 at the Ben Milam principal's office. Only students who have not previously registered need to do so.

Students registering for kindergarten and first grade must have a birth certificate and up-to-date immunization records. Students registering for grades 3, 4, and 5 must have up-to-date immunization records.

Registration hours will be from 9-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. on the specified days.

Yoe High--Seniors for Yoe High will register on Wednesday morning, August 18 with juniors registering that afternoon.

On Thursday, August 19, sophomores will register in the morning with freshmen registering that afternoon.

Junior High--Students in grades 6-7-8 will register Thursday, August 19 and new students should register on Friday, August 20. Registration will be at the school office.

Classes in all Cameron schools will begin on August 23 with teachers reporting for in-service training August 16-20.

Holidays for the 1976-77 school year will include Labor Day on Sept. 6; Thanksgiving Nov. 25-26; Christmas Dec. 23-Jan. 2; Easter April 7-11; Yoe Day May 12; and school holiday May 13. Seniors will graduate on May 26.

Some 12 new teachers will greet students and enrollment in the schools is expected to be around 1,650, according to Supt. Buddy Dulin.

BUCKHOLTS

All Buckholts High School students are asked to register for classes from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 10 and 11 at the high school building.

Parents of children eligible for kindergarten are asked to register those students on Wednesday, August 11.

Children eligible for kindergarten are those who are at least 5 years of age but less than 6 of age as of Sept. 1, 1976. Immunization records and birth certificates will be needed for these children.

Eligible kindergarten students who are educationally handicapped or financially deprived are eligible to attend full-day classes for the entire school year. All other eligible kindergarten students will attend full-day classes for one-half of the school year. At Buckholts, those eligible to attend one-half of the year will attend the second-half of the year.

Classes will start Monday, August 16, at 8:20 a.m. School will dismiss each day at 3:40 p.m.

ROSEBUD-LOTT

August 18 is the first day of school for the Rosebud-Lott school year with teachers reporting August 12-15.

Buses will run the first day on the 11 routes and the cafeteria will be open to serve the district's 975 students.

School ends May 28. Baccalaureate and commencement will be combined this year and are set for May 27.

Most of this year's coaching staff is new with Earl Carson as head coach and assistants Charles Huggins, Donnie Robinson, and Danny Wilhelm.

ROCKDALE

Classes will start August 23 and enrollment is predicted to total over 1,700 students, an increase over last year in the Rockdale school district.

Teachers will report August 16 for in-service training.

The district has added a vocational director to the curriculum this year and also a director of student services. That director will be in charge of transportation and lunchrooms.

All classes will start at 8 a.m. with high school classes ending at 3 p.m.

MILANO

Classes in the Milano public schools will open August 16 with an estimated enrollment of 270, according to Supt. Charlie Martin. High school students will register for the new school year at 2 p.m. August 13.

Buses will run the first day and the lunchroom will also be open the first day of classes. Lunchroom prices remain 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

The school day will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 3:30 p.m.

ROGERS

Students in Rogers schools will start classes on August 19 at 8:10 a.m. and will be dismissed at 3 p.m. the first two days.

Schedule thereafter will be from 8:10 a.m. to 3:35 p.m. Grades K through 3 will dismiss at 2:45 p.m. each day for parents who wish to pick up children at the campus.

Holidays include Labor Day, two days at Thanksgiving, two weeks for Christmas, and one week Spring holiday.

THORNDALE

The school bell will ring for the fall term at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, August 18. Students will register on August 17 according to this schedule: Grade 12, 8:30-9:30; Grade 11, 9:30-10:30; grade 10 10:30-11:30; grade 9, 12:30-1:30; grade 8, 1:30-2:30; grade 7, 2:30-3:30.

Students in grades 1 through 6 should report to their homeroom teachers anytime between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Kindergarten students need not register.

SYRUP MAKING--Elo Buegler of Cameron is shown harvesting some cane sorghum he grew on W. 20 St. on an acre plot. The harvested cane was taken to his son's farm at Yarrelton and squeezed in this press worked by a mule. The juice was then boiled and produced a tasty syrup.

Humble Named New Judge For 20th District

Don G. Humble, 49, a Cameron attorney, has been named district judge for the 20th Judicial District in Milam and Robertson Counties.

Humble replaces Judge W. C. Wallace of Cameron who resigned recently after serving as district judge since 1961.

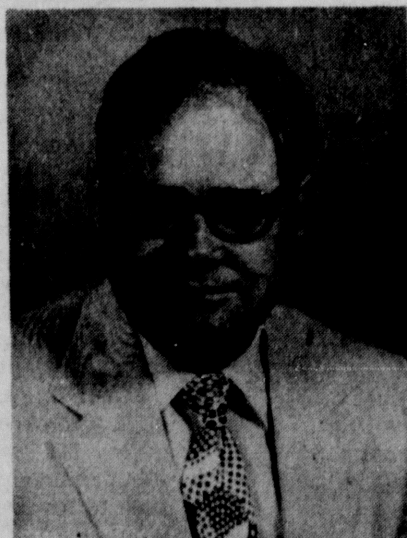

Humble will run unopposed this November for the full four-year term. He also ran unopposed in the Democratic primary.

He is a graduate of the Baylor University Law School and served 6 1/2 years as Milam County judge. He has been in private practice in Cameron for the past 10 years.

Humble has practiced law for the past 26 years.

"This has been a long-range goal," he said. He said he didn't really have any expectations about the judicial position.

"The only thing you can do is enforce the law," he said.

DON HUMBLE

SP Seeks To Close Tracks To Rosebud

The Southern Pacific Railway Corp. has applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon its tracks linking Rosebud and Cameron, in effect leaving Rosebud without rail service, a spokesman for the rail company said.

"According to our application, the rail service isn't justified," said J. L. Bart, public information officer for Southern Pacific in its Houston regional office.

Southern Pacific owns about 11 miles of tracks linking Cameron and Rosebud and serves the two cities by using Santa Fe Railroad tracks that connect Cameron to Caldwell. The tracks that come out of Cameron stop in Rosebud.

Bart said Southern Pacific has applied for permission to abandon 13.7 miles of the stretch between Rosebud and Cameron. The distance extends south from Rosebud to Quintiff, three miles north of Cameron.

Southern Pacific will continue its agreement with Santa Fe to use the tracks from Caldwell so that the service can still be provided to Cameron, Bart said.

"What we have there (from Cameron to Rosebud) is an isolated stretch," Bart said. "The company just doesn't feel it's justified."

Rosebud City Manager Dan Roark said Rosebud once had a reputation as the large cotton producing area, but that has long ago waned. What cotton that is grown locally now is shipped out by trucks, he said.

Rockdale Studies Organization Of Fall County Fair

Rockdale may be the site of an old-time county fair, according to a group of interested citizens headed by agriculture and business leaders.

Bill Vogelpohl, spokesman for the group, said the fair would be held at Fair Park and would be in the fall so as not to interfere with the County Junior Livestock Show held in Cameron in January.

"What we envision for the Rockdale fair," Vogelpohl said, "is a place where youngsters from all over the county, especially those in 4-H and FFA activities, can sell the stock they have raised in various projects."

Vogelpohl said the county junior livestock show is primarily a preparatory show for the larger stock shows later in the year. "Someone whose animal places in the fair here would be assured of a buyer," he added.

Vogelpohl said more definite plans concerning the proposed fair would be made after a Tuesday meeting of fair organizers.

Yes....And Again....

YES...

ONCE--We encourage the City Council to spend adequate funds to establish proper boundaries and limits for the incorporation of about 380 acres into the City of Cameron, perhaps more later. It is more than budgeted, but the long-term gains for city and citizens would more than offset perhaps $2,500 more on engineering costs.

TWICE--We encourage city volunteer firemen to visit every building site in Cameron and people here to cooperate in cleaning up hazardous conditions cited. This department becomes more effective each month.

THRICE--We encourage people to join the volunteer ambulance service scheduled here for classes August 9, understanding that the alternative may someday be a service considerably more expensive.

AGAIN--We encourage other groups to contribute as generously as Cameron History Club, Arts and Service League, and County Commissioners Court to the Milam Historical Commission for the museum-jail conversion.

AGAIN--We encourage other county groups to join the Milam County Junior Livestock Association in contributing to the Youth Exposition Bldg. Last week, this group voted to give $10,000 to the project, raising about $30,000 or about half of the funds to build a 12,000-square foot structure here.

AND AGAIN--We encourage people to look around in Cameron and Milam County. This area is moving at modern rates, a bit less than hectic here, but faster than "get along."

Yes, Cameron, among other things, is a "gateway to country sunshine" because a lot of people are opening their ambitions as wide as Texan promises.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

WHY VETO OF PUBLIC WORKS EMPLOYMENT ACT

To the Senate of the United States: (Excerpts from the President's message)
"I am returning without my approval S. 3201, the Public Works Employment Act of 1976.

"This bill would require $3.95 billion in Federal spending above and beyond what is necessary. It sends a clear signal to the American people that four months before a national election, the Congress is enacting empty promises and giveaway programs. I will not take the country down that path. Time and time again, we have found where it leads; to larger deficits, higher taxes, higher inflation, and ultimately higher unemployment.

"S. 3201 would authorize almost $4 billion in additional Federal spending--$2 billion for public works, $1.25 billion for countercyclical aid to state and local governments, and $700 million for EPA waste water treatment grants.

"Beyond the intolerable addition to the budget, S. 3201 has several serious deficiencies. First, relatively few new jobs would be created.

"Second, S. 3201 would create few new jobs in the immediate future. With peak impact on jobs in the late 1977 or early 1978, this legislation would add further stimulus to the economy at precisely the wrong time; when the economy is already far into recovery.

"Third, the cost of producing jobs under this bill would be intolerably high, probably in excess of $25,000 per job.

"My proposed economic policies are expected to produce lasting, productive jobs, not temporary jobs paid for by the American taxpayers by the American taxpayers.

Gerald R. Ford
The White House
July 6, 1976

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

These 24 Senators voted to sustain the veto: Baker, Tenn.; Bartlett, Okla.; Bellmon, Okla.; Brock, Tenn.; Buckley, N.Y.; Byrd, Va.; Curtis, Neb.; Dole, Kansas; Fannin, Ariz.; Garn, Utah; Hansen, Wyo.; Helms, N.C.; Hruska, Neb.; Laxalt, Nev.; McClellan, Ark.; McClure, Idaho; Pearson, Kansas; Proxmire, Wis.; Roth, Del.; Scott, Va.; Stevens, Alaska; Thurmond, S.C.; Tower, Texas; Young, N.D. Senators Goldwater, Ariz.; Morgan, N.C.; and Hugh Scott Pa., were necessarily absent.

The other 73 Senators voted to override the veto and the Public Works Employment Act S. 3201, was passed.

The bill has been called a "Bonanza." The dictionary definition of bonanza, is "a mine of wealth; lush or rewarding."

Presidents, Foreign Policy

By Walter LaFeber

Editor's Note: This is the thirteenth in a series of 18 articles exploring issues of the American Issues Forum. This series has been written especially for the second segment of the Bicentennial program of Courses by Newspaper. In the last of his four articles, Walter LaFeber, a diplomatic historian at Cornell University, discusses the problems of controlling the modern presidency, which has enlarged its powers in response to the crises of foreign affairs.

COURSES BY NEWSPAPER was developed by the University of California Extension, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Copyright 1976 by the Regents of the University of California.

In foreign affairs we expect our President to be strong, courageous, and decisive. As the previous article indicated, the American people approved his attempts to control revolutionary outbreaks abroad, even if he despatches military force.

On the other hand, Presidents have discovered that trying to be god-like in exercising domestic power can create a wave of political atheism. A President who does not possess the power to raise the price of postage stamps, one journalist has noted, still clings to the illusion he can manage the world. And we encourage him to fool himself.

In the 1960s and 1970s we nearly became the victims. We believed that Presidents such as Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon could dominate the nation's foreign policies while we continued debating domestic issues as usual. Instead, they tried, and nearly succeeded, in using the immense powers of their office to silence political opposition at home. For too long the break-in at the Democratic Party headquarters in the Watergate Apartments was covered up for reasons of supposed "national security." The Central Intelligence Agency, required by law to stay out of domestic affairs, was used by Nixon against his opponents within the United States.

Both Johnson and Nixon followed the earlier examples of Presidents Roosevelt and Kennedy in attempting to use the FBI for similar domestic political intelligence work. Nor did Johnson and Nixon shy away from well-publicized "conspiracy" trials as a vehicle for quashing domestic dissent against their foreign policy.

CONTAINING POWER

Throughout the post-World War II years we have tried to separate the use of presidential power abroad from the constraints on that power at home. We thus neglected a lesson that the Founding Fathers considered most important, namely that power must be checked wherever it is located. For power, like gangrene, does not contain itself. It must be contained. The Founders understood that foreign and domestic realms could not be separated; power acquired in one realm could quickly spread to the other.

In drafting the Declaration of Independence, Jefferson first stated general principles ("All Men... are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights"), then devoted two-thirds of the document to a blistering indictment of King George III for trying to establish "an absolute tyranny over these States." Unchecked executive power, Jefferson alleged, caused the revolution.

This argument was overly simple, but useful. Not all the abuses of the British empire could be blamed on its often befuddled King. But the Founders had learned a lesson, and when they created an Executive branch of government at the Constitutional Convention, they carefully divided powers--as Professor Doris Kearns noted in an earlier article--among co-equal executive, legislative, and judicial branches.

The Convention took special care in defining powers in foreign affairs. As James Madison warned the delegates, "The management of foreign relations appears to be the most susceptible of abuse of all the trusts committed to government." They carefully assigned to Congress the power to declare war. The Executive, declared George Mason of Virginia, "was not to be trusted with it." The President was named "Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy," but the Convention believed Congress could check this power through its control of the purse.

PROVOKING WAR

Except for the Civil War years, most Presidents were held within these limits during the next century. A notable exception was James K.

FDR WITH CHURCHILL AND STALIN AT YALTA, 1945. In carrying out his foreign policy, Roosevelt twisted presidential power into new forms.

Polk in 1846. Polk's treatment of Mexico strikingly anticipated Lyndon Johnson's maneuvering in Vietnam more than a century later. Both were Democrats who believed that Congress was unfit to shape foreign policy. Both manufactured an incident. Polk provoked a Mexican attack in disputed territory and then claimed that, without provocation, Mexican troops had "shed American blood upon American soil." Johnson sent American ships into the Gulf of Tonkin in 1964 to accompany South Vietnamese commando raids against North Vietnam. When the ships were attacked, Johnson insisted that the attack was unprovoked.

Polk used the border skirmish to manipulate Congress into declaring war against Mexico. Similarly, Johnson exploited the Tonkin Gulf incident to obtain a resolution from Congress that gave him a virtual blank check to wage war against North Vietnam. Each President led the nation into the most unpopular war of the century. There the analogy stops. Polk won his war and annexed the present American Southwest. Johnson lost his and the Vietnamese War left in its wake a country wracked by social turmoil and economic distress.

Polk, unlike Johnson, was followed by a weak President who was forced to deal with internal problems. With the exception of the Civil War, Congress and the courts again moved to the forefront of national decision-making in the half-century after Polk left office. The eclipse of the presidency was due in part to the absence of any major foreign war. Without the opportunity to exercise their powers as Commander-in-Chief, many Presidents exercised little power at all.

THE MODERN PRESIDENCY

The modern presidency began in 1898. During that year an easy victory over Spain made the Caribbean an American lake, led to the annexation of the Philippines, and transformed the United States into a great world power. Given these global interests, with distances contracted first by the telephone and later the airplane, many believed that only the President possessed the detailed information to make intelligent and instantaneous decisions on world questions.

In earlier articles we noted that Woodrow Wilson clearly understood what was happening to the United States. He analyzed our insecurity, explained why we were becoming anti-revolutionary, and in 1908 described the new presidency. "The President can never again be the mere domestic figure," instead the office "will be as big and as influential as the man who occupies it." As "the most heavily burdened officer in the world," Wilson added, the President will have to be chosen only "from among wise and prudent athletes--a small class."

Wilson himself was one of the strongest Presidents, but in the end he was not "a prudent athlete." In all-out battle to force the Senate to accept the League of Nations Covenant in 1919-1920, Wilson unwisely refused to compromise and then suffered a physical breakdown.

After this victory, Congress regained a measure of control over foreign policy for the next two decades. But the presidency could never again return to its pre-1898 condition.

ROOSEVELT AND PRESIDENTIAL POWER

The Second World War, and Franklin D. Roosevelt's deviousness and disregard for the limits of his constitutional authority, raised presidential power to new heights. Supposedly a neutral between 1939 and 1941, Roosevelt manipulated information and kept secret his acts of war against Germany (such as tracking Nazi ships). He has been charged by some historians with provoking the Japanese to fire the shots that forced Americans to declare war. Although his actions were undeniably taken to ensure the survival of the democracies, Roosevelt had twisted presidential power into forms the Founding Fathers would not have recognized.

Appealing to FDR's precedents, and supported by a quarter-century-long American commitment against communism, Lyndon Johnson became the strongest President in the post-1945 era. His use of that power in Vietnam bitterly divided the nation by 1968.

His successor, Richard Nixon, could not obtain a peace settlement on American terms by 1970-1971, so he extended the war by invading communist bases in Cambodia and Laos. Nation-wide protests in the United States climaxed with the killing of four students at Kent State University. Determined to quiet the dissent, Nixon tried to persuade the FBI to carry out illegal political espionage against the protesters. When the FBI refused, the White House established its own "plumbers" unit to tighten security, investigate dissenters and, finally, to bug the Democratic Party's offices. Out of the misuse of presidential power in the midst of an undeclared Southeast Asian war came a threat to liberties at home, and, ultimately, the historic resignation of the President himself.

CONTROLLING THE PRESIDENCY

The question remains: can Americans restore the effective balance between Congress and the President which the Founding Fathers once devised? This will be difficult, in part because we revere our presidents. (When asked in 1973 which person living or dead they would like to have visit them, Americans listed four presidents at the top of the list; Harry Truman was tenth, just ahead of Jesus.)

Controlling presidential power will also prove difficult since it must be achieved in a complex world situation marked by the impossibility of isolationism, the persistence of insecurity, and the frequent emergence of revolutions. We shall continue to look to our President to solve foreign policy problems, therefore, but we must also remember the lesson of 1776 and 1787. Power must always be checked both in foreign and domestic affairs, for the two realms cannot be separated.

NEXT WEEK: Professor Neil Harris of the University of Chicago begins a four-week discussion of the shaping of American character and values with a consideration of the role of the family and the church.

SYDNEY
Squash can raise an Australian's blood pressure even before he's had the chance to take a swing at the ball. The reason is the frustration of trying to find somewhere to play. Squash is booming and at the present rate there are barely enough courts to fit everyone in. Recent estimates indicate that half a million Australians play squash every week, the highest ratio per capita in the world.

WASHINGTON
Smarting from a first round defeat by a coalition of communist and developing nations, the United States is still expecting its proposed new bank for international resources development to be set up next year. According to current U.S. planning, the International Resources Bank will be created under the aegis of the World Bank on the recommendation of both rich and poor nations, despite bitter communist-led opposition.

TOKYO
Japan's exports are booming so strongly even the Japanese seem to be getting worried. In the first half of this year, exports increased twice as fast as imports to give Japan an all-time record surplus in this international trade of $3.8 billion. Since one man's surplus is another's deficit, there have been predictable crisis of alarm from abroad, most notably the European Economic Community.

BEIRUT
A handful of men dedicated to the extinction of Tel Al-Zaatar refugee camp have in their power the lives of over 1,000 wounded people trapped inside the Palestinian enclave. Both sides have committed atrocities, looted and massacred in the past 16 months of civil war. But for the moment Tel Al-Zaatar has become a focus for the bitter feelings between the country's warring factions.

BONN
A series of dramatic shooting incidents on the border between West and East Germany, one of Europe's most sensitive and heavily-guarded frontiers, has provoked a fierce diplomatic row between the two countries. After months of growing tension, official protests flew between the two sides when on three occasions in one weekend communist border guards shot or abducted people who strayed over the border from the west.

WARSAW
Five years ago, films with heavy-handed ideological themes were losing badly in competition with television and thousands of Poles were abandoning life-long habits of cinema-going. Today it's different. The new line of the government is good entertainment with the least possible official interference. Ideology and social messages are muted, if they appear at all. The result of this new policy has been a near tripling in box office sales in three years.

BELO MONTE, BRAZIL
A potent Amazonian drug, believed by Indian tribes to confer powers of telepathy and prophecy, is gaining new users in Brazil and worrying the authorities. Some experts say it is as strong as LSD and more dangerous than conventional drugs, because the initial euphoria it causes is inevitably followed by intense aggressiveness. Ayahuasca or Vage, as it is called, was first used by Indian tribes along the country's borders with Peru and Colombia during religious ceremonies and feasts.

RASCALS DEFEAT ALL STARS--In Thursday night baseball action, the Rascals defeated the All Stars 7-4 to capture the championship of the girl's junior softball league. The Rascals finished the season with only one loss to the Termites. Rascals pictured are, bottom row left to right, Mar-

Yoemen Begin Fall Workouts

It's football time again and the Cameron Yoemen will begin two-a-day workouts beginning Monday morning at 8 a.m. and then back for the afternoon session at 6:30 p.m. Football fever is at the boiling point with the season to begin with the Yoemen ranked third in the newly altered district.

A relaxed attitude is prevailing and the coaches seem confident that the Yoemen will still be in contention in the district that they have dominated for the past two seasons.

Coach Cauley commented Thursday night at the annual Booster Club get together that the Yoemen would have a couple of surprises for the district foes and the player attitude was one of the finest since he had been in Cameron.

The seniors and juniors displayed a confident attitude that their mark would be made during the upcoming season including post-season games.

Clay Kruse and David Delony voiced strong opinions that the Yoemen were still number one.

Included in the next two weeks of pre-season workouts the Yoemen will have their press day on Saturday, August 14 and all people wanting pictures of individuals and team pictures are welcome.

Then on that same Saturday night the Yoemen will have an inter-squad scrimmage where the towns people are encouraged to meet the '76 Yoemen. The event will be sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

The first Yoemen scrimmage will be Aug. 20 against 3A A&M Consolidated. The Yoemen will travel to Bryan with the starting time at 8 p.m. for the varsity. The freshmen will begin things at 6, followed by the junior varsity at 7 p.m.

Friday, August 27 the Yoemen will host Austin Crockett for a scrimmage bout with that 4A team. The varsity scrimmage will begin at 7:30 at Yoe Field. The freshmen and junior varsity teams will play in Austin beginning at 4:30 and 5:30.

The freshmen will have only one workout each day beginning at 4 until 5:30. Morning workouts for the varsity and JV will be until 9:30 and the afternoon session until 8.

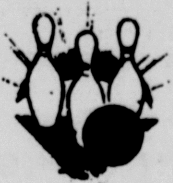

Coach Cauley said, "We are expecting 31 out for the varsity squad this season. We have 14 seniors, 15 juniors, and will have 2 sophomores playing on the varsity. We're expecting around 32 to be suited out for the junior varsity and 30 freshmen."

Cuban Refuses Monied Fight

By Uli Schmetzer

MONTREAL

Reuter--Cuban heavyweight Teofilo Stevenson, the man who turned down a $1 million dollar offer to fight world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, is still adamant he will not be lured into a fight for money.

The gentle giant who has won every major title the amateur world can offer, including a gold medal at Munich, said that even a $2 million bait to fight Ali would not shake his convictions that professional boxing is "a curse."

"I still don't want to become just a piece of merchandise. Anyway, what's money? I am happy doing what I like and the way I like," he told Reuter as he signed autographs for awed schoolboys addressing him as "champ."

Stevenson, 24, a son of Cuba's sugar cane district of Oriente, has flatly turned down a $1 million offer to fight Ali. It could have been the fight of the century -- the quiet, undisputed king of the amateur ranks against the vociferous monarch of the professionals.

But since that lucrative offer the handsome Cuban's sports fortunes have somewhat seen-sawed. He was knocked out for the first time by an unknown Soviet fighter, Igor Vysotsky, in Minsk last April and his place in the Cuban Olympic team was jeopardized after doubts arose about his mental attitude towards fighting.

But Stevenson says the doubts and the nightmare of that knockout are memories of the past.

"Listen, I am here to win the gold medal and I wouldn't be here if I thought I couldn't do it. I am so confident that I am already planning to fight in the Moscow Olympics in 1980," says "the greatest" of the non-paid ranks.

The young man still has confidence in his awesome right-handed hammer, which was dispatched 94 of his 128 opponents inside the three round limit.

"I feel so good that the thought of retiring hasn't even entered my head lately," he said.

The Cubans treat the giant like a national treasure. An official, usually glowering, is never more than a few steps away. And if the conversation turns to the inevitable professional baits there is the inevitable interjection by the official: "We are at the Olympics, let's keep money out of the questions."

Stevenson, still signing autographs, smiles indulgntly. What if he was offered $2 million to fight Ali after the Olympics?

He smiles and shakes his head: "No way. What's $1 million dollars more or less?"

And if the proceeds of the fight were offered to the Cuban government?

He grins. The official takes his arm urgently: "Look, we'll miss the bus."

Local Hospitals Extend Nursing Care Services

Newton Memorial Hospital and St. Edward Hospital-Rischar Memorial extended nursing care type services in July as part of a Social Security Administration pilot project in cooperation with the Texas Department of welfare. The hospitals' participation was announced by O. Ray Hurst, CAE, president of the Austin-based Texas Hospital Association, coordinator of the project.

"All of the hospitals involved have less than 100 beds and are experiencing low occupancy of acute cases," according to Hurst. "Yet, there is a demand for high quality long-term services." The service, called Skilled Nursing Care, has not been available locally to Cameron area Medicare patients before. Such patients were moved to the nearest town where Medicare certified skilled nursing facilities exist.

Early American colonists used the milk in which blueberries had been boiled to paint their houses gray, not blue.

Rent Subsidy Program Opens

A new Federal rent subsidy program with more advantages and built in safeguards for both owners of existing housing and renters than with prior programs is being started in Cameron, according to Paul Olbrich, executive director of the Housing Authority Unit of Cameron.

A special meeting has been scheduled, he said, for Tuesday, Aug. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Cameron in the Community Center to explain the facts of the program to landlords in Cameron.

Olbrich said, "that the new Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments Program (HAPP) which is part of the 1974 Community Development Act, can pay up to 75% of a qualifying family's rent in excesses running from one to three years. If the participant abuses the apartment building, duplex, or single family home he is renting, he can be evicted and dropped from the program. Another feature of the program, he said, is that an owner receives 80% of the rent he would normally receive direct from HAPP if a unit becomes vacant during the leasing period.

The HAPP program is available to people with low incomes who are elderly, disabled, handicapped, or large. The Housing Authority is responsible for providing financial and other assistance in securing decent, safe, and sanitary housing. The amount of family financial assistance is based on a family's annual income.

Once a family is certified for the program, they negotiate direct with the landlord to secure rental accommodations suited to their needs. The fair market rent for each size unit is established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Housing Authority/Landlord/Tenant Contract begins after the Housing Authority determines that the dwelling unit and family comply with program standards.

For further information, contact the Housing Authority in Cameron at 704 W. 6, or phone 817-697-2511.

KOKO, the first gorilla to learn and use a human language, signs "mask" in response to a woodpecker mask. It is displayed by Francine Patterson, a graduate student at Stanford University who is teaching Koko the American Sign Language of the deaf. Koko, five years old, knows about 250 words in sign language. Miss Patterson's research is sponsored by the National Geographic Society.

Gorilla Learns To Use Sign Language For Deaf

Like any normal five-year-old, Koko talks a lot, is full of mischief, tells fibs when she has been naughty, and hates to take naps.

This five-year-old is not a child but a gorilla—the first to learn and use a human language. Koko knows about 250 words in the American Sign Language of the deaf.

She can string together as many as a dozen signs, but—like many humans—tends to get repetitious in long sentences.

The 95-pound gorilla also is adept at inventing names for objects she sees for the first time. She called a ring a "finger bracelet," and mask an "eye hat," and a stale sweet roll a "cookie rock."

Born on Fourth of July

Koko is a real Yankee Doodle gorilla, born on the Fourth of July, 1971, in the San Francisco zoo. She has been learning sign language since she was a year old.

Her teacher, constant companion, and great friend is Francine Patterson, a 29-year-old graduate student at Stanford University. The National Geographic Society recently started supporting Miss Patterson's project, continuing a tradition of sponsoring research into great apes.

"Koko is far from intelli-ectual maturity," Miss Patterson explained. "No one has ever studied a gorilla this closely through its years of development, breeding, and family life.

"Given the things she is telling us now, it would be fascinating to know what's in the mind of an adult gorilla.

Right now, Koko can express through sign language such ideas as "happy,"

"smart," "patient," and "mad." And she is mastering time concepts such as "later," "now," "tomorrow," and "yesterday."

"But we'll have to wait until her vocabulary expands or her sophistication about things grows before she can tell us what she thinks, for example, about her social relationships with others," Ms. Patterson explained. The researcher is in no hurry.

Plans Lifetime Study

"I hope to be spending my life studying Koko and her family—if we can gather a family for her," Miss Patterson said. "We're interested in getting a companion for her in the immediate future—it need not be a male—and in the more long-term future want to get her a mate.

"And we would hope she would eventually produce an infant or two and we could establish a social group. I don't know if it would be possible to have a colony of gorillas who pass on language. That's a dream. But this kind of a social group may be the only answer to keeping gorillas alive since they're so threatened in the wild."

Smith And Pavlas Retire From Alcoa

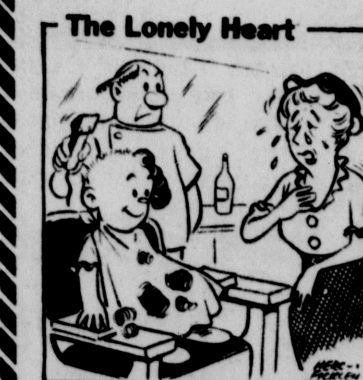

James Williams Smith and Ladis Pavlas have retired with over 43 years combined service at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works.

Smith, a native of Lexington, joined Alcoa in 1953 as a production helper. A year later, he was promoted to head tapper-carbon changer. In 1965, he became a battery truck operator.

He and his wife, Loraine, have a daughter, Deborah, and a son, Jimmy. Smith and his wife are members of the Baptist Church and reside in Lexington.

Pavlas, born and reared in Caldwell, is an army veteran who joined the company in 1956. He was promoted to pot tender in 1975.

He and his wife, Marcella, have two sons, Johnie and Robert. Pavlas and his wife are members of the Catholic Church and reside in Caldwell.

The Lonely Heart

Mobile homes and mobile home lots were added in 1970, with a guarantee of 30 percent. The new law increased this guarantee to 50 percent, effective July 1, of an unpaid balance up to a maximum of $12,500 on single wide units. For a double-wide unit, the maximum guarantee is $20,000.

Veterans gaining eligibility for GI home loans for the first time, effective Oct. 1, are those whose active duty occurred after July 25, 1947 and prior to June 27, 1950. They must have served for more than 180 days under conditions other than dishonorable or have been discharged with less service for a service-connected disability, Coker noted.

Soil And Crop Scientists Stressing Revegetation

As increasing amounts of Texas lignite are mined and used to generate power, surface revegetation methods are receiving heavy emphasis by Texas A&M University soil and crop scientists.

In a project sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M's Center for Energy and Mineral Resources, Dr. L. R. Hossner and Dr. J. B. Dixon are studying the effects that sulfide mineral oxidation and acid production in lignite spoil material have on revegetation of strip-mined lands.

"Surface-mined spoils,"

Hossner explained, "may be high in sulfide minerals that, when oxidized under normal conditions, produce large amounts of soluble sulfates, acidity, and various materials which may be harmful to plant growth."

The centers of lignite spoil production occur extensively in surface mining areas of central and eastern Texas. "Spoil acidity formation," Hossner stressed, "can be overcome with proper management practices. New regulations controlling surface mining could arrest potential acidity development."

The Experiment Station researchers are studying representative cores of lignite and over-burden material to determine areas of high sulfide concentration. They separate the sulfide minerals from the material and characterize the acid-producing potential by chemical techniques.

"We're aiming," said Hossner, "at determining those factors which will predict the sulfide oxidation rate, acidity production, and the resulting toxic element released into the soil."

After evaluating the potential soil acidity of surface-mined spoil material, the Station scientists will use their findings to develop practical methods of revegetation surface-mined areas.

The girls received a blue and two red ribbons, respectively, and each girl's recordbook placed in the blue class.

Tea Honors Winner Of President's Scholarship

Rebecca Riola, winner of the President's $300 scholarship, was honored with a tea hosted by the Milam County H. D. Council Wednesday, July 18 at the Milam County Farm Bureau Meeting Room in Cameron.

Rebecca is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riola of Cameron and is the first Milam county 4-H'er to win one of the state THDA Scholarships. She is a graduate of C. H. Yoe High School and will be attending Tarleton State University at Stephenville in the fall where she will major in agricultural economics.

Cookies, punch, coffee, mints, and nuts were served to the approximately 40 guests that attended between 3-5 p.m. The meeting room was decorated with colors of yellow and green.

Those assisting with the serving and registration were Mrs. O. M. Brockman, H.D. council chairman; Mrs. Preston Perry, county THDA chairman; Mrs. Clyde Holliman, newly elected district 10 THDA director; Mrs. Wavy Charles, H. D. council treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Charles, H.D. council parliamentarian; Mrs. Frank Hanel, council delegate from the first Cameron H. D. Club; and Jerry Nabors.

Refreshments were furnished by the H. D. Council and the H. D. Clubs of Milam County.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Debra Coufal, bride-elect of Chris Dale, both of College Station, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Kim Terry.

Co-hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Irene Angell, Mrs. Dottie Coufal, both of Cameron, and Mrs. Sandi Coufal of Nacodoches.

Special guests were Mrs. Walter E. Coufal, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Don Dale, mother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. Christopher Dale, grandmother of the prospective groom, all of College Station.

The serving table was carried out in the bride's chosen colors of red, white, and blue with white wicker appointments. The centerpiece was made of fresh cut flowers arranged in a white wicker basket.

The couple plans a September 11 wedding in the A&M Church of Christ in College Station.

Families Can Provide An Early Warning Fire Detection System

For an investment of less than $50, families can provide an early warning fire detection system in their homes, Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist, says.

Smoke-detector alarms are an increasingly popular appliance. Every fire department can relate stories of preventable life and property loss--if they had only discovered the fire sooner, she said.

Miss Bourland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"City ordinances and building codes are being developed and revised to require smoke-detector alarms in new homes, home approves for VA loans and in some cases, in older homes when placed on the housing market," she added. Three basic types of smoke detectors exist.

"Battery-operated models are assured to operate when the fire electrical or occurs during a blackout. But they require regular battery checks. All provide a warning that sounds when the battery's power reduces. Because a separate electrical circuit is not required, they may be the least expensive type to install.

"Electrical-powered models are of two designs. One plugs into a 110-volt outlet. The other is wired directly to prevent it from being accidentally unplugged and to avoid the use of its outlet for another purpose.

"Installation instructions recommend a separate circuit be used. This prevents overloads and other circuit-breaking events from cutting off power. These models also can be installed easily if adequate power is available," she explained.

Smoke detectors are different from heat detectors. Smoke detectors can sense fumes from combustion before smoke may be visible and before the temperature of the fire is high enough to trigger a heat or flame detector alarm, she explained.

"Another important aspect is that smoke is usually the killer--fire victims many times are overcome by smoke and toxic fumes before the heat or flames reach the area where the occupants are sleeping," she said.

REUNION

Rogers

The descendants of Armstead and Mary (Jones) Rogers of Jones Prairie will hold a family reunion at the home of Marjorie Rogers Church in Marlin Saturday, Aug. 14.

Children of this marriage were: Susan--married Sam Barrow; Carrie--married Henry Rice; Bettie--married Lankford Osborn; Mary--married Bonnor Rogers; Rose--married a Mr. Taylor, then a Mr. Harris; Julia--married George Eudaly; Margaret, died unwed; John, died at age 14; Sally--married Mr. Atkinson; James of Laredo; Joe of Waco; George of Clarkston; Matt of Rule; and Ed of Marlin.

Please contact George Rogers, P.O. Box 6, Lake Kowa; 817-665-2670 for further information.

Art Fair To Feature 175 Exhibitors

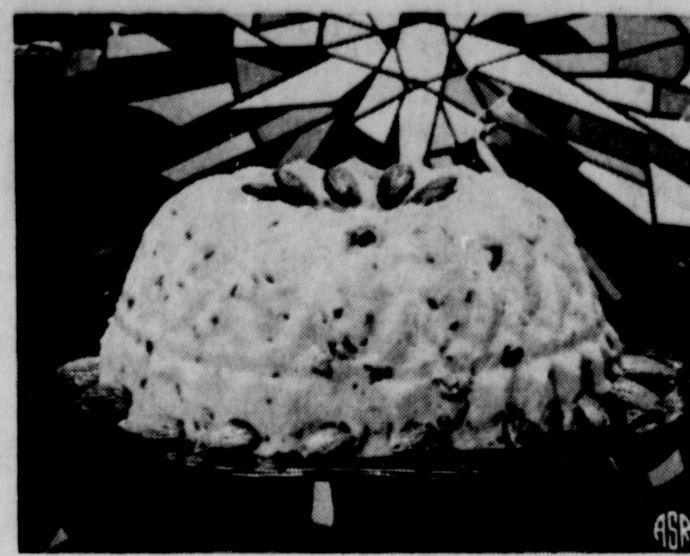

The 10th annual Salado Art Fair scheduled for Aug. 7-8 will feature 175 exhibitors in all fields of painting, handcrafts, sculpture, and jewelry making selected to provide quality, diversity, and balance.

Artists from Texas and seven other states will be present at the show which will be held on the banks of Salado Creek in Pace Memorial Park.

The fair is sponsored by the Salado Chamber of Commerce with proceeds going to Salado projects.

A sweet jazz band will be part of the fair festivities late Saturday afternoon, and there will be several food concessions on the grounds. The show opens at 10 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday and closes at dark Saturday and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Make-Ahead Gala Dessert

You can make this impressive frozen dessert well ahead and stash it away in your freezer. At serving time, you may wish to garnish—as in the photo—with almonds that have been lightly brushed with corn syrup to make them glisten.

White Christmas Fantasy

- 2 cups whipping cream
- 2 jars (7 oz. each) marshmallow cream
- 1 1/4 cups whole natural (unblanched) almonds
- 2/3 cup each red and green candied cherries, chopped
- 2 cans (8 1/2 oz. each) crushed pineapple, drained
- 1/3 cup lime or lemon juice
- 4 teaspoons rum or 1 teaspoon rum extract
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Whip cream stiff; gradually beat in marshmallow cream. Reserve about 1/3 cup almonds for garnish; coarsely chop remainder. Spread chopped almonds in shallow pan, toast at 400 degrees about 8 minutes, stirring occasionally. Fold chopped almonds and cherries into cream mixture along with pineapple, lime juice, rum and almond extract. Turn into 8-cup ring mold; freeze. Unmold onto serving plate and garnish with almonds and cherries. Makes 12 to 14 servings.

Graves Conducts Seminar

Alma Graves of Austin conducted a seminar on china painting on August 3-5 for the members of the Cameron Porcelain Art Guild.

Mrs. Graves has taught in Abilene, Beaumont, and Orange and is presently teaching in Austin. She conducts at least three workshops a year, and she specializes in lamps, portraits, and glass painting.

Mrs. Graves said that she has been interested in art since childhood but became interested in china painting in 1961. Since then she has studied with such well known teachers as Ruth Little and many others.

At the regular monthly meeting of the club on Thursday, a salad supper was served to the members and guests and then Mrs. Graves gave a demonstration on painting on tile. Twenty-two members and five guests were present.

A little tarragon vinegar stirred into butter makes a good sauce for mushrooms and artichokes.

Coming Events

A watermelon-swimming party will be hosted by the Cameron Yoe FFA Tuesday, August 10 at the Cameron City Pool from 8-11 p.m.

All 1975-76 FFA members and all in-coming freshmen enrolled in Vocational Agriculture are invited to attend.

The party will be in conjunction with the August meeting of the chapter.

Senior Citizens

The Cameron Senior Citizens will meet Tuesday, Aug. 10 at the Cameron Community Center.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. with a coffee. At 10:30 Mrs. Chris Holcombe will present a program on her recent trip to Spain. A covered dish luncheon will be held at noon and will be followed by a group singing led by Rev. Vodicka and Mrs. Pam Browder. Games will be held after the singing.

All area senior citizens are invited to attend.

College Notes

Georganne Wilkerson of Cameron will be among the 17 students honored for completing the Vocational Nursing Program in a pinning and lighting ceremony Friday, August 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center at McLennan Community College.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Fikes announce the marriage of their daughter, Susan, to Jack Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirk of Cameron. The couple was married Wednesday, July 21 in Bryan College Station where they are now living.

An uncovered lemon peel will absorb refrigerator odors and add its own fresh smell.

NARFE

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees will meet Wednesday, August 11 at 2 p.m. at the Business and Professional Women's Club House.

All members and interested retirees are invited to attend.

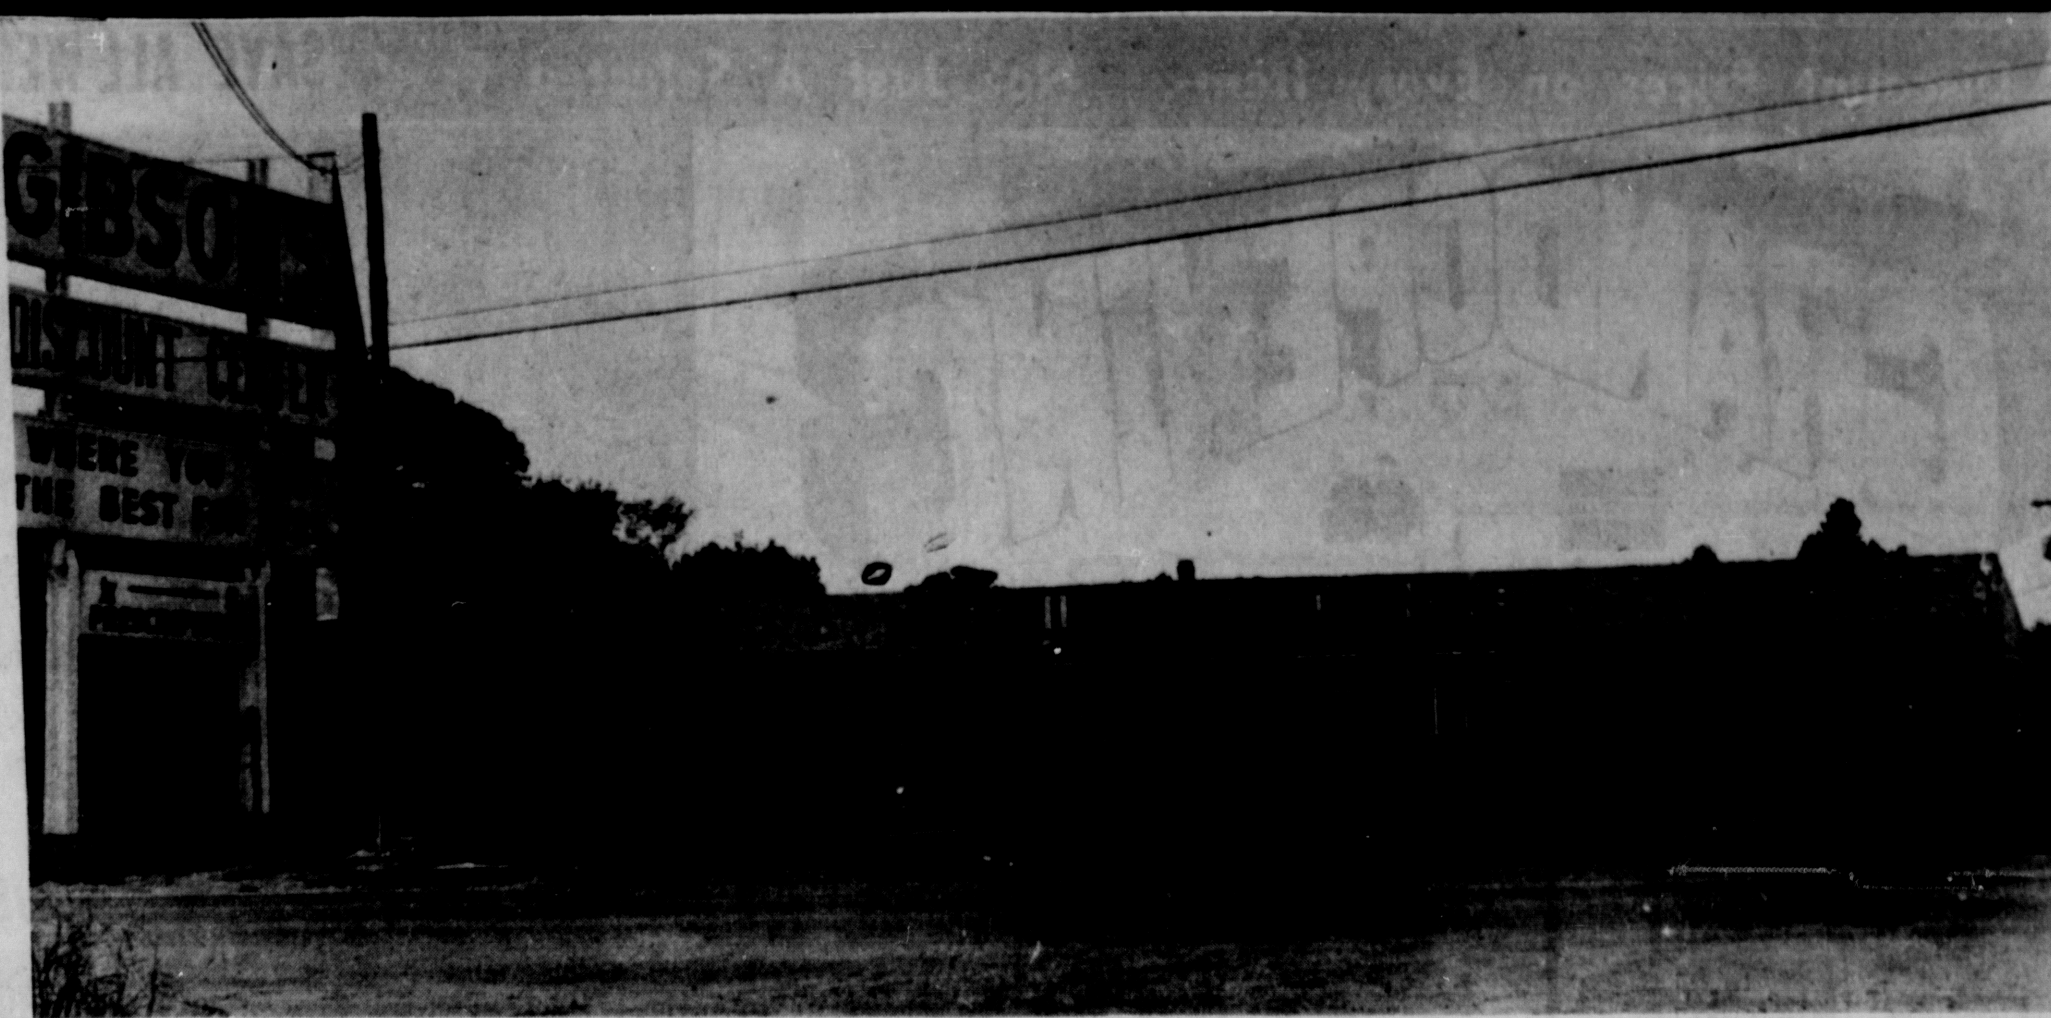

Personal Mention

Visitors in the W. H. Black home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pruiett, Mrs. Lelia Pruiett, and Mrs. Ruby Rae Flowers of Houston. Also Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Sanders and their daughter and son from Lake Jackson visited. While here, the Sanders' visited with their cousin, Carl Black.

CONSERVING ENERGY

Energy conscious homemakers are looking for ways to conserve energy, both for themselves and the nation. Here are a few suggestions that can help you trim your energy tab and still let you enjoy the convenience of your automatic dryer.

- Dry full loads but do not overload your dryer. Clothes that can tumble freely will dry faster.
 - Dry your clothes in consecutive loads. This cuts down on the energy consumption required to heat up the unit.
 - Avoid overdrying—remove clothes as soon as the dryer turns off.
 - Sort clothes into loads of light or heavy fabrics for fastest drying.
- Automatic dryers make washdays a lot easier. Following these tips can make it easier to save energy, too.

A SUCCESS STORY:

800 EAST FIRST STREET, CAMERON, TEXAS

15 Stores Opened In 12 Years

Fifteen stores in twelve years. This is the success story of Delmar Watkins, president and owner of Gibson Products a division of the Sandra Corporation.

The energetic head of the 15-store group opened his first store in Pampa in 1963 and is now very proud to open a second store in Pampa.

Gibson's in Hereford was opened in 1964 and in 1965 a big Gibson's was built in Borger. Since that time stores have been acquired or opened in Dumas, Canyon, Tulia, Dimmitt, Friona, in the Texas Panhandle area, in Columbus and Brenham in South Texas, and in New Mexico, at Silver City and Tucumcari, and in Oklahoma at Elk City.

Born in Canadian, Oklahoma, Watkins attended both elementary and high school there, graduating from Canadian high school in 1948.

He served four years in the Air Force, during the Korean war. He attended Oklahoma State University and North Texas State University, where he majored in business administration with a minor in accounting.

His business training was extended with merchandise training with National Cash Register Company, in 1956, and he moved to Pampa in 1957, spending seven years with National Cash Register, largely in its Dallas and Amarillo offices.

In 1967 he presented a self-complied dossier and an idea to several investors, the idea being the development of a group of retail stores.

Since then he has spearheaded the formation of a growing retail operation that encompasses parts of three states and employs 400 people, a system that has added substantially to the economy and retail business in the area it covers.

The idea, as Watkins describes it is: "... eliminate the middleman, buy by the truckload from the manufacturer and pass the savings along to the customer."

Gibson's stocks some 16,000 name brands, nationally recognized and double-guaranteed. The store group head believes that the "double guarantee" offered customers - their money back from the store plus the factory guarantee - and the desire to save the customer money have been major factors in the success of his stores.

Watkins conducts his duties as president of the fast-growing organization from a suite of offices at the Sandra Corporation Building.

The retail executive is an enthusiastic handball and golf player and enjoys hunting and fishing when time permits. He and his wife, Sandra, reside in Pampa. He has two sons.

The newest store in the Gibson chain will be open Monday thru Saturday 9 to 9.

Rinn To Operate Pharmacy At Gibson's

Warren Rinn, a former pharmacist at Myatt's Pharmacy in Dallas, will operate the pharmacy at the new Gibsons Discount Center in Cameron.

Warren graduated from Cameron's Yoe High School in 1958 and attended the University of Houston where he graduated in 1964 with a degree in pharmacy.

He resides with his wife, Janice, and one son, David.

Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rinn and the grandson of Dell Fuller, all of Cameron.

Garcia Named Manager Of Gibson's In Cameron

Ernie Garcia, former manager of the Gibson Discount Center in Dimmitt, has been named manager of the new Gibson's in Cameron.

A native of Roswell, N.M., Ernie started working with Gibson's in Silver City, N.M. while he was attending Western New Mexico University. Ernie then worked with receiving in Pampa and was promoted to assistant manager in Hereford where he worked for 11 months. He was most recently employed in Dimmitt where he managed a Gibson's store for two years.

While in Dimmitt, Ernie was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, Kawanis Club, and was a Sunday school teacher at the First Baptist Church.

Ernie is married and he and his wife, Elizabeth, are expecting a baby in October.

JIM ANDERSON

Jim Anderson of Pampa, who joined the Gibson Products Company in January of 1968 as manager of its Hereford store, became general manager of the present 15-store group in mid-1972.

As such, he keeps an experienced eye on operations of the 15 stores in the Gibson's group, headquartered in Pampa and with stores ranging from there to South Texas and over into New Mexico.

Before joining Gibson's, Anderson had 15 years experience as buyer and merchandise manager for Gyro Sales Discount Store in Amarillo.

PLUS all the quality features you'd expect from Coleman:

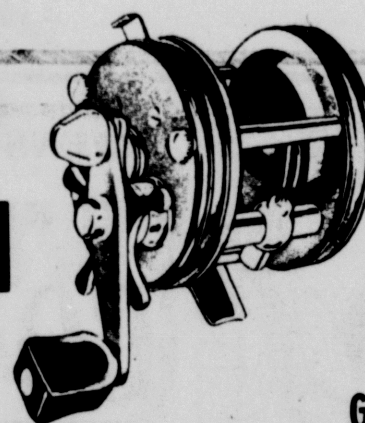

1. Tight, sturdy construction keeps wind and rain out, prevents clogging or loss of lighting efficiency.
2. Two Coleman Silk-Lite mantles for peak light output.
3. Operating instructions printed on lantern collar.
4. The fount base fills through a steel spout, then seals tightly with a screw-on cap.

5. Like all Coleman lanterns, the Model 275 operates on an air-pressure principle, at the heart of this system is a reliable finger pump.
6. Rust resistant, inner-coated steel fount holds two pints of fuel.
7. Up to eight full hours of brilliant light using economical Coleman Fuel.
